

ICS 300 OVERVIEW

December 5, 2006

11 am—3 pm (lunch provided)

UMDNJ's Scotch Plains campus

Trainer: Dr. Mick Maurer of NYU

Directions:

www.umdj.edu/home2web/about/about14/_scotch_plains.htm

This is a free event

RSVP by December 1, 2006 — sgeiger@njpca.org

Target audience:

—Working professionals who cannot attend the demands of an all day training for ICS 300.

—This course is individuals who may assume a supervisory and leadership role in large scale incidents, or incidents where command and general staff positions are activated. ICS 300 builds upon the knowledge of ICS 100 and 200 and further trains supervisory and leadership roles in the art of Incident Command.

Objectives:

—Describe how the NIMS Command and Management component supports the management of expanding incidents;

—Describe the incident/event management process for supervisors and expanding incidents as prescribed by the Incident Command System; and —Implement the Incident Management process on a simulated Type 3 incident and Develop an Incident Action Plan for a simulated incident.